HAD NO LIKING FOR MUMMIES. Servants of Great Writer Did Not Share His Hobby.

Pierre Loti, the French novelist, once obtained a new acquisition to his weird and wonderful collection of Egyptian mummies. It was that of a young princess, with gilded face, almost as expressive under its mask as it must have been in life. This mummy, one of the best in his collection, accentuated in his study "the smell that creeps from a winding sheet when a mummy is half unrolled." Loti's grievance was that his servants would not move or touch his mummies under any circumstances.

"Only think!" he said. "Not one of my servants would touch this beautiful young woman. They are so superstitious about the dead—I had to carry her upstairs myself. And, would you believe me, as I reached the landing it suddenly flashed through my mind that I was carrying a corpse. I seemed to feel the chill of the dead breast penetrate my own."

Noticeable among the other embalmed bodies of dead and gone Egyptians in Loti's study was that of a little three-year-old girl, who stared down with sightless eyes on her owner as he sat writing his romances and plays in the still watches of the night.

Moral Effects of Athletics. Aside from its physical effect, the moral effect of athletics, in the case of the soldier at least, is of no small value. My experience has been that men are less likely to drink in the football or baseball season, even though they may be addicted to the use of intoxicants. And thus no special effort may have been made along these lines by those in charge of the sports. The class of men who go in for athletics and excel in such contests are the most desirable soldiers and the best all around men. Still another advantage of athletics is that good athletic teams and the reputation for a post of having champion teams draw good recruits and soldiers to enlist there.—Army and Navy Life.

On Getting Up Early. I often hear fellows say that their life consists solely of coming down to business, and sleep, says a writer. What a different tale they would tell if they were only to get up early and go out of doors before they need think of business! Even if they only rose early once a week, that morning would stand ahead of the other six. There is a freshening and invigorating power in the early morning air which only early risers may enjoy. Ask anybody who is accustomed to rising early and going for a ride or a walk before breakfast how much fitter they feel to face their daily toil.

Gases in Coke. The silvery luster shown by many of the best grades of coke is said to be due principally to the decomposition of some of the gases evolved during the process of coking, and the deposition of a thin coating of pure carbon on the surface of the coke clods. This thin coating protects the cells from alteration in the air, and is accountable for the durability shown by any cokes.

Beware of the Rolling Pin. A woman sociologist says wives must obey; that men were born to rule. The mind's eye can see a lot of poor wretches reading this and getting into a mess of trouble.—N. Y. Telegram.

And Win the Love of All. Keep true to your best faith and dot the days with deeds which love and kindness prompt. Be just in your dealings and keep from stain of evil in thought and word, and you shall wear the crown of an approving conscience.—Mountford.

BOMB EXPLOSION CHARGED TO BLACK HAND SOCIETY

Property Destroyed Was Owned by a Brooklyn Man Who Had Refused to Pay for Immunity.

New York.—An Italian bomb explosion similar in character to many which have taken place in this city within a year occurred in Brooklyn on Monday, when Peter Locato's music store in Morgan avenue was wrecked. Locato had received many so-called Black Hand letters, but, having refused to pay for immunity, his store was first blown up last spring. In December last another bomb was left on the steps and the windows and doors demolished. Since then he has received several letters demanding money, but has ignored them, which resulted in the third mysterious attack. The lives of Locato, his wife and his three children, who occupied rooms in the rear of the store, were endangered by the last explosion, but they escaped with slight injuries.

A few months ago the body of an Italian was found in the street near Locato's store. There was a bomb in the pocket of the dead man, and it was believed that he had been delegated to commit some outrage, had failed, and had been murdered by his associates for his failure to carry out his instructions.

PLEADS FOR MAIL SUBSIDY.

Senator Gallinger Declares Merchant Marine of United States is in Bad Way.

Washington.—Speaking in favor of the passage of the ocean mail subsidy bill in the senate on Monday, Senator Gallinger reviewed conditions under which the merchant marine of this country is operating and cited many advantages that he believes will accrue to the commercial interests of the United States if better mail service to South America and other points is established. "The bill raises no new issue, introduces no new principle," said Mr. Gallinger. "It leaves existing and prosperous steamship services exactly as they are now, and without changing one iota the tried and approved methods of the present law, increases the compensation on routes which sixteen years of experience have conclusively proved to be inadequate—the long, costly and important routes to South America and the Orient, the routes where our lack of steamship service is severest and our need of such service most imperative." Only eight of fifteen ships that were plying across the Pacific ocean last March are left, he said.

NEED MORE OPERATORS.

Enforcement of Nine-Hour Law Will Provide Work for Many Men.

Topeka, Kans.—Announcement was made at the general manager's office of the Santa Fe on Monday that 485 new operators will be required on the system, the gulf lines expected to comply with the provisions of the federal nine-hour law to go into effect March 4. About sixty are required on the Eastern Grand division. The officials do not know whether they will be able to get the requisite number of new men or not.

Charged With Slaying His Wealthy Brother.

New York.—Dominio Cella, brother of Girolamo Cella, the wealthy importer who was found dying in his office in West Broadway early Sunday and Girolamo Stephenson and Caesar Bianchi have been held without bail to await an investigation into the cause of the old man's death. Cella was found unconscious and near death by a policeman who had been called by Dominio. His skull had been fractured by several blows from a hammer and there were stains from acid on his lips.

Sioux Indians Win Out.

Washington.—In an opinion by Justice Holmes, the supreme court of the United States has decided the case of the Sisseton and Wahpeton bands of Sioux Indians vs. the United States favorably to the Indians. The Indians claimed a large sum of money growing out of a treaty with them in 1851, under which the government agreed to pay them for fifty years an annuity of $73,600, in addition to $305,000 cash paid at the time. The payments were regularly made until the Sioux outbreak in 1862, when payments were suspended.

Gambling Drove Wife to Suicide.

San Francisco.—When the coroner's deputies entered the home of C. Leopold, a mining man, recently from Mexico, to prepare for the autopsy on the body of his wife, who was found dead, presumably from natural causes, they found a note inside her corset showing that she had committed suicide. It declared that she had been driven to take her own life by the actions of her husband, who, she asserted, was spending all their money gambling in the rear of a cigar store on Fillmore street.

Germany a Menace to Peace of World.

Chicago.—"Germany has become a menace to the peace of the world," declared Dr. Emil G. Hirsch at Sinai temple on Sunday. "That nation has lent a willing ear to the doctrine denying the equality of men. So far has that pernicious doctrine taken root that now it is a settled conviction among the strong men of the nation that even those born in that country are not real Germans unless they have Teutonic blood in their veins. The doctrine is the offspring of selfish and ungodly minds."

Getting His. "Of course, you don't want anything you are not entitled to," said the conscientious man. "Of course not," answered Senator Sorghum, "but I will incidentally remark that I always have the best legal talent available to ascertain what I am entitled to."—Washington Star.

Our strain is Dakota grown which laughs at droughts and elements and positively mocks black rust that terrible scourge and would be ashamed of itself if it did not return from 40 to 80 bu. of the finest wheat the sun shines on per acre in good Ill., Ia., Mich., Wis., Ohio, Penn., Mo., Neb., Kan., and other lands, and 40 to 60 bu. per acre in arid lands. Rather Neatly Put. A Baltimore man had until recently a dinky in his employ—about as shiftless and worthless a dinky, says he, as ever he came across. One day the employer, his patience exhausted, called Sam into his office and told him to look for another job. "Will you give me a letter of recommendation?" asked Sam, piteously. Although he felt that he could not conscientiously comply with this request, the Baltimore man's heart was touched by the appeal. So he sat down to his desk to write a non-committal letter of character for the negro. His effort resulted as follows: "This man, Sam Harkins, has worked for me one week, and I am satisfied."

CUT OUT FOR A FINANCIER.

Shrewd Rascal Made Good Thing Out of Whistling Geese.

Two rogues passed a poultry shop. Seeing two geese hung up for sale one of the rogues inserted in the gullet of the goose a little bulb with whistle attached. When the bulb was pressed the whistle sounded. Then, entering the store, he told the proprietor that he had hanging outside a very rare kind of whistling goose. The proprietor at once sold the goose for a big sum to a very learned professor, who was astonished to hear about the whistling geese. Seeking the man who had placed the whistle in the gullet of the bird, the proprietor asked him if he knew where others like it could be obtained.

"Well," said the crafty fellow, "I know of only one place, and if you will pay me a big price I will get several for you."

So the rogue brought a dozen fowls, in the gullet of each of which he thrust a whistle, and was paid an exorbitant price for them before the hoax was discovered.

BRAIN POWER

Increased by Proper Feeding.

A lady writer who not only has done good literary work, but reared a family, found in Grape-Nuts the ideal food for brain work and to develop healthy children. She writes:—"I am an enthusiastic proclaimer of Grape-Nuts as a regular diet. I formerly had no appetite in the morning and for 8 years while nursing my four children, had insufficient nourishment for them."

"Unable to eat breakfast I felt faint later, and would go to the pantry and eat cold chops, sausage, cookies, doughnuts or anything I happened to find. Being a writer, at times my head felt heavy and my brain asleep."

"When I read of Grape-Nuts I began eating it every morning, also gave it to the children, including my 10 months old baby, who soon grew as fat as a little pig, good natured and contented."

"Within a week I had plenty of breast milk, and felt stronger within two weeks. I wrote evenings and feeling the need of sustained brain power, began eating a small saucer of Grape-Nuts with milk instead of my usual indigestible hot pudding, pie, or cake for dessert at night."

HOW DO THEY GET IN?

Physiological Problem That Nora Could Not Solve.

A Philadelphia physician tells of an amusing conversation between two Irish girls in domestic service who, while on the board walk at Atlantic City one day not long ago, were exchanging views as to their various physical ailments. "It's a strange thing, ain't it, Norah," asked one of the girls, "how many new kinds of diseases people get these days. Only this mornin' I were readin' an advertisement of a new medicine. It said it were wonderful for a sluggish liver."

"Gwan!" exclaimed the other girl, scornfully. "Liver trouble ain't no new disease. Me own grandfather was havin' liver trouble whin I were not more'n tin years old."

"Maybe," was the laconic response. "But," added Norah, "what I want to know is: how do them slugs get inside the liver, anyhow?"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

ECZEMA FOR 55 YEARS.

Suffered Torments from Birth—In Frightful Condition—Got No Help Until Cuticura Cured Him.

"I had an itching, tormenting eczema ever since I came into the world, and I am now a man 55 years old. I tried all kinds of medicines I heard of, but found no relief. I was truly in a frightful condition. At last I broke out all over with red and white boils, which kept growing until they were as big as walnuts, causing great pain and misery, but I kept from scratching as well as I could. I was so run down that I could hardly do my work. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment, Resolvent, and Pills for about eight months, and I can truthfully say I am cured. Hale Bordwell, Tipton, Ia., Aug. 17, 1907."

"I cheerfully endorse the above testimonial. It is the truth. I know Mr. Bordwell and know the condition he was in. Nelson R. Burnett, Tipton, Ia."

HER CHOICE OF DEMISE.

Pathetic Thought of Little Girl Who Had Lost Playmate.

Mary had for neighbor a small playmate, a much-loved and attractive boy. The little lad rushed across the street one day, throwing back a glance at his mother. At that instant a trolley car swept around the corner and the resulting tragedy threw the town into mourning. Each family wept as though its own son had been lost. Mary was utterly disconsolate and, little as she had previously known of death, realized in a childish way the added horror of this one. In her convulsive grief, and while her father and mother sat with sobs in their throats and tears overflowing, Mary straightened up and sobbed: "Mother, when I die I hope it will be of a disease and not of a damage!"

Power of Deceiving.

There is a Brooklyn woman who possesses a servant who is a model in all respects save one—in that she is none too truthful. Lately the mistress has been using all her eloquence to make Nora see the error of her deceitfulness. But at last she had to own herself beaten when Nora, with a beaming Irish smile, turned and in a most cajoling tone said: "Sure, now, mum, an' wot de ye suppose the power of desavin' was given us fer?"—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.
